

I find it appalling that Sinclair Broadcasting would run such a controversial documentary criticizing Senator Kerry days before the general election in November. Never mind that this is a clear violation of federal law regarding television broadcast, of political subject matter, without equal time being granted to Mr. Kerry to respond to such ridiculous allegations. AND, never mind that a major participant within the film, Ken Cordier, is a clear Bush supporter, with a major bias, and strong ties to the Bush/Cheney presidential campaign. This is simply a scathing attempt to manipulate control of the PUBLIC airways in a manner that would push their own agenda. I find this unbelievable in this day and time! What has happened to being "fair and balanced"?
